Vada Rain2Main Automatic Rainwater Controller

The WaterMark approved Vada Rain2Main is an automatic rainwater controller utilised in dual water source systems where rainwater is given priority over mains water for everyday applications such as filling a washing machine or flushing a toilet. It senses whether rainwater is available in the tank and automatically selects the appropriate water source, ensuring the benefits of a rainwater tank are fully maximised.

V80-H

The Vada horizontal multistage pumps combine the functional benefits of centrifugal pumps and the practical benefits of self priming pumps. Offering a pump that delivers high hydraulic pressure and flow rate performance.

Applications

Household pressure systems, garden irrigation, or water transfer. Excellent efficiency makes these pumps ideal for high pressure applications and where low noise levels are required.

V60-J

The Vada series of self priming jet pumps combine the functional benefits of centrifugal pumps and the practical and qualitative benefits of self-priming pumps. The pumps are fitted with a Venturi system guaranteeing optimum hydraulic efficiency and great performance under high suction lift applications.

Applications

Household pressure systems, garden irrigation, or water transfer. Perfect for use where the water source is located below ground or water must be lifted from below the level of the pump.
